

outsider artist troy meadows

presents his clumsy masterpiece...

"a faith observed"

track listing:

1. strangely not a phase*
2. had a vision*
3. could've been a preacher?†
4. started a line*
5. always staccato
6. when i forgive you*
7. sidewalk song
8. key signaturest
9. shining hours 9-30-2019
10. shining hours 4-3-2015

ALL TRACKS FCC FRIENDLY

try tracks 1,2,3,4, 6, and 8!

* track contains a vocal melody and is more traditionally radio-friendly † track features spoken word vocals and is best suited for college and freeform radio

(track 10 should be covered by someone at the station)

(committed to losing the volume wars)

you were made to shine!

you were made to shine!

love is patient, love is kind it never fails, and it's always on my mind...

"Sounds like D. Klein could probably be a punk singer. Or a preacher. But instead sings to hypnosis." -Randall Holmes (KZSU Stanford University Radio 90.1) guaranteed for a thousand listens will sound terrible the first time through

dear listener:

this is an album about wrestling with God

every note is sincere

- d. klein

recommended if you like:
 russian literature
 new testament and psalms
 the mountain goats
 genesis two and three guided by voices
 murmur
 waxahatchee
 devo and the dead

pretty soon
 it just becomes your life...
 but it's a beautiful life..

the bands of time
 the bounds of space
 they form a geometric shape
 i saw a design
 so i started a line...